Leon LEADS
A Structure for Success

PEOPLE FOCUSED.
PERFORMANCE DRIVEN.
Dear Fellow Employee:

When I addressed the Board at the July 12, 2011 Commission meeting, as its then recently appointed County Administrator, I spoke of the new level of effort and commitment required to achieve my singular aim: to place the Board of County Commissioners in the best position to realize its vision for this community, and to have an organization capable of doing so even amid the unprecedented challenges we faced then, and will continue to confront into the foreseeable future.

At the time, states across the country, including Florida, had downsized their payrolls and slashed funds for education, social services and local governments. Many local governments were in even worse shape. They were losing state aid and feeling the fallout from the mortgage meltdown and unfunded state mandates. Property tax assessments, a major source of funding for counties and cities, were in a continued decline. Additionally, government as an institution, and local government in particular, was an easy political target.

This political climate, combined with the real economic struggles that people were facing, and continue to face, has led to a new level of skepticism in government. Many people are understandably upset, worried, or uncertain about their future. A growing number of citizens see themselves as individual disenfranchised taxpayers, rather than stakeholders in the collective success of their community. While they go about their daily lives, they may not be able to find anyone at the state or federal level to direct their frustration; however, they can always find the local courthouse.

There was little precedent for leading a local government organization through the political and economic times as tough as those we had been facing. And, while Leon County’s economy has now begun showing encouraging signs of economic recovery, the recovery is not robust and we are not out of the woods. As to the political environment, even well-performing local governments cannot escape being tainted by the low approval ratings other governmental sectors are facing.

From Fiscal Year 2007/2008 through Fiscal Year 2013/2014, six years in a row, the Leon County Board of County Commissioners reduced its budget, cumulatively saving $62.3 million (22%) and reducing its workforce by 83 positions. While the Fiscal Year 2014/2015 budget was also very conservative, it reflected the slow economy recovery that Leon County is in. One general revenue funded position was added to the Board’s workforce: a right-of-way flagger. Additionally, an Emergency Medical Services crew of 10 positions was added, funded by the EMS Municipal Services Taxing Unit; one position was added at Tourism, to be funded by bed tax; one GIS specialist position was added, funded by City Utilities; and three positions were added at Development Support and Environmental Management, in response to increased local development activity and supported by permitting revenues.

In times of such economic constraint and uncertainty, many organizations hunker down, and wait for better times. However, visionary leaders utilize the challenges they face to reinvent their organizations and to create the conditions necessary to realize big improvements and opportunities. Through the steady leadership and vision of the Board of County Commissioners, Leon County has developed a high performance model of governance, providing a framework to excel, even in these tough political and economic times. How we internally manage our organization, and how we think about and work with our fellow employees, citizens, partners and the community, impacts our productivity and our success.

Instituted in 2011, Leon LEADS ensures Leon County government is in a constant state of becoming the highest performing organization we can be, and to do so in a way which: always upholds our values, instills the public’s trust, conveys a true sense of relevance for the role of county government, and is aligned with the Board of County Commissioners’ Vision Statement, Strategic Priorities and Core Values. Under the leadership of the Board, and as carried out by the dedicated employees of Leon County through the Leon LEADS structure, Leon County will become the model for effectiveness as a 21st century county governed by:

- Demonstrating to our citizens that we are on their side;
- Letting them know that they are the reason we exist and what they are getting for their tax dollars;
- Producing bigger and better ideas to address the real issues facing our community;
- Being a model local government which our citizens trust and other local governments aspire, by sustaining a culture of performance, and actively promoting transparency, accessibility, and openness in everything we do;
- Engaging citizens in important decisions facing the community;
- Empowering employees to help people;
- Tirelessly enhancing our community’s economy, environment, and quality of life; and
- Demonstrating our unwavering commitment to Leon County’s Core Practices.

This will be our organizational culture, a culture which simply but powerfully combines performance and relevance – in other words, an organization which is people focused and performance driven. To remain the benchmark, we need to prove our value to, and strengthen our relationships with, our citizens and community partners. Everyday, and in every way citizens come in contact with their County government, we need to be committed to exceed their expectations in customer service and responsiveness.

While Leon LEADS and our workplace culture change emanated in part as a response to a challenging political and economic environment, this organizational framework and these workplace norms of behaviors and underlying shared values have taken root because they produce better results and are, quite simply, the right thing to do.

Leon County aspires to be a great organization, and our success depends on you. It depends on employees who dedicate themselves to exceeding customers’ expectations, engaging with our partners, and improving our community. It depends on employees who are accountable for achieving bold goals with unwavering integrity. It depends on employees who believe that to be truly great, we must continually strive to better ourselves and help others improve. We must expect the best from ourselves – and each other - everyday.

I believe Leon County employees are up to these challenges, and are more committed than ever to delivering the quality of service our citizens deserve for their tax dollar, to working with our community in tackling the tough problems of today, and for ensuring our quality of life into the future.

Yours in service,

Vincent S. Long
County Administrator

A Structure for Success

DEVELOPED AND CARRIED OUT BY STAFF:

Strategic Initiatives
The County Administrator ensures the development of strategies or actions to move the County forward in its achievement of the Board’s strategic priorities, which may be new or continued from prior years. Proposed strategic initiates are identified by the Board and staff, and presented to the Board for finalization and approval.

Departmental Budgets
As part of the budget process, each responsible organizational unit within County government develops an annual budget which identifies departmental roles in carrying out the strategic initiatives, desired outcomes, benchmark measures, and performance measures aligned with desired outcomes. OMB reviews departmental budgets to ensure alignment with the Strategic Plan, eliminate budget “silos,” and determine Return on Vision (ROV) prior to review by the County Administrator.

LEADS Listening Sessions
Throughout the organization, we take “an honest look in the mirror” to gain perspective on performance, and factors that affect performance, through the assessment of organizational metrics, progress on current strategies, customer and employee “voices”, technologies, strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats.

Performance Monitoring and Evaluation
Organizational success is monitored against desired outcomes and benchmark measures. Employee appraisals include an assessment of behavioral alignment with core practices.

Performance Improvement
Progress is evaluated through a leadership team approach, with adaptations and the realignment of resources made when appropriate. Employees at all levels are encouraged to identify areas for improvement and to participate in operational improvement teams.

Reporting
Annual performance, financial and State of the County reports are presented to the Board and to the public.

Core Practices
Leon County employees are committed to the following workplace practices, which set the stage for the desired workplace culture, and put our core values in action.

Leon County’s Core Practices

- Delivering the “Wow” factor in Customer Service. Employees deliver exemplary service with pride, passion and determination; anticipating and solving problems in “real time” and exceeding customer expectations. Customers know that they are the reason we are here.

- Connecting with Citizens. Employees go beyond customer service to community relevance, engaging citizens as stakeholders in the community’s success. Citizens know that they are part of the bigger cause.

- Demonstrating Highest Standards of Public Service. Employees adhere to the highest standards of ethical behavior, avoid circumstances that create even an appearance of impropriety and carry out the public’s business in a manner which upholds the public trust. Citizens know that we are on their side.

- Accepting Accountability. Employees are individually and collectively accountable for their performance, adapt to changing conditions and relentlessly pursue excellence beyond the current standard, while maintaining our core values.

- Exhibiting Respect. Employees exercise respect for citizens, community partners and each other.

- Employing Team Approach. Employees work together to produce bigger and better ideas to seize the opportunities and to address the problems which face our community.

LEAD BY LISTENING, INNOVATING, AND INSPIRING

Citizens want their tax dollars spent wisely, efficiently, and effectively. To that end, Leon County continuously engages citizens and customers to identify customer perceptions and develop strategic recommendations to improve business operations, employee satisfaction, and customer experience. Reflecting our “People Focused, Performance Driven” culture, we strive to be a government that listens to the citizens we serve, solves our problems, and ensures that our community continues to be a place like nowhere else.

LEADS Listening Sessions – Every other year, all Leon County departments and divisions engage directly with their customers in a facilitated listening session surrounding one fundamental question: “How do you experience what we do, and can we make it better?” Each cycle, more than 30 separate listening sessions are conducted involving roughly 300 citizens, representatives from businesses and not-for-profit organizations, representatives from County Constitutional Offices, and other stakeholders. Through LEADS Listening Sessions, each work area identifies customer perceptions with regard to service delivery, quality, efficiency, relevance, and customer experience, resulting in actionable recommendations to improve business operations, employee satisfaction, customer experience, cost avoidance, and increased efficiencies.

Cross Departmental Innovation Team – To find and implement the most innovative ideas and cost-saving measures throughout the organization, Leon County convenes a cross-departmental innovation team to brainstorm, collaborate, and align resources and processes. Called the “SMARTIES Committee,” this team serves as a catalyst for Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Realistic, and Timely (SMART) innovations and employee-led improvements that reinforce Leon County’s Core Practices in the workplace and the County’s relevance in the community. The County’s cross-departmental innovation efforts have generated millions of dollars in cost savings and dozens of actionable ideas that have been implemented to help our employees serve citizens even better.
Employee Recognition Program - The County’s I² (Innovator/Inspirator) Employee Awards Program provides a framework for recognizing employees for their outstanding contributions and noteworthy achievements or actions. I² Awards convey the value Leon County government places on employee-led improvements. Employees may submit their projects for either the Inspirator Award or the Innovator Award consideration. Inspirator projects are those that focus upon reinforcing Leon County’s core practices in the workplace, and/or raising the public’s awareness of Leon County’s relevance in the community. Innovator projects are those that focus on increasing the quality, quantity, timeliness, or efficiency by which Leon County’s services or products are delivered. Projects carried out by a team, or by an individual employee, are eligible. Projects meeting the award criteria may receive a cash award or gift card. An annual awards ceremony is held to recognize I² Award winners and to announce the Employee and/or Team of the Year.

County Administrator’s Strategic Intent - The County Administrator’s Strategic Intent provides clarity, focus, and inspiration to guide the collective efforts of Leon County employees in achieving the vision of the Leon County Board of County Commissioners and fulfilling our obligations to our community.
